Connect with your future!

For bachelor students only!

Zurich, May 3, 2019

Are you a bachelor student and always thought you were too young to apply for a careers event? Do you want to experience consulting and what it feels like to work in diverse teams with students from different academic backgrounds?

McKinsey invites you to this one-day event to explore different topics, learn new skills, and connect with McKinsey consultants and other bachelor students from different universities.

Application deadline: April 22, 2019
