Curious about the vibrant life at BCG and our approach to overcoming exciting challenges? Join our “Beyond curious.” event for a unique twist and a change of perspective.

The event will take place in an art studio in Zurich, where an abstract painting workshop awaits. This activity not only fuels your artistic expression, but also showcases the indispensable role of creativity in consulting, reflecting our belief that innovative thinking and creativity are at the heart of solving complex problems.

You will have the chance to exchange with different BCGers over an apéro in a relaxed, informal setting. It's the perfect opportunity to satisfy your curiosity about their professional paths, experiences, and the culture at BCG.

This event is open to all students from Swiss universities with a business background, from the 3rd Bachelor semester onwards, eager to learn how to tackle the consulting industry's most compelling challenges.

To participate, click here or scan the QR code and apply by March 14th, submitting your CV and transcripts. Further information on the event location will be provided upon invitation.
